

Portugal showcases innovative tile, stone, and cork coverings in the American market

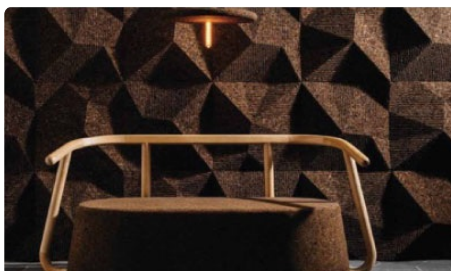

Coverings 2021 took place on July 7-9 in Orlando, Florida. New innovative tile, stone, cork and construction products from Portuguese manufacturers were showcased and featured in the latest global AICEP campaign, "Made in Portugal naturally", highlighting some of the best Portuguese industry players and products.

Discover outstanding product

Meet remarkable Portuguese granites, marbles, limestones, shale, and slates with unique textures, colors and distinctive characteristics. It's all about elegance, comfort and tradition that never disappoints.

Nowadays, the secular Portuguese craftsmen's skills evolved, making stone quarrying and finishing even more sustainable and efficient.

The distinctiveness of colors and veins of the Portuguese marble makes it one of the most desirable stones, especially in the American Market. Portugal is the world's 7th largest exporter of Natural Stone.

Portugal is the world's first and largest exporter of cork, with permanent product development for new sustainable covering solutions.

From handmade to large-scale, Portugal's wide range of indoor and outdoor cork-based wall and floor coverings combine innovation with tradition.

Tiles are a secular tradition part of Portuguese history. The country is the 8th largest exporter of ceramic tiles in the world.

With unique patterns, colors, finishes and designs, the Portuguese tile Industry is renowned for frequent "call for artists" programs that result in outstanding designs, new tile uses, and breakthrough architectural concepts.

Artists, architects, and designers create and deliver the most daring and unique ideas.

Coverings 2021 exhibition week unveiled tile and stone products from around the world, and Portugal invited everyone to discover the latest Portuguese products in an impressive array of new trends, materials, and customized solutions.

Visit us and explore a world of outstanding products born from tradition and grown into sustainable and innovative solutions.

Discover why you should choose Portugal as your strategic partner

Follow us

portugalglobal-northamerica.com
aicep.newyork@portugalglobal.pt

Co-financed by:

